ENERGY STAR CONFERENCE

With Sam Rashkin, R.A., EPA, National Director ENERGY STAR for Homes

Tuesday, January 13, 2009 • 7:30 a.m. – 4:30 p.m. • $20

Delaware Tech Community College / Terry Campus, Dover, Delaware

Today's savvy and energy-conscious consumers are looking for energy efficient homes, improvements, products and solutions to save energy, save money, and to help maintain and protect the environment. They seek out the ENERGY STAR® mark because they recognize it as a symbol for energy efficiency.

ARE YOU PREPARED TO MEET THEIR DEMANDS?

CONFERENCE OVERVIEW

EPA's ENERGY STAR can increase revenue, enhance customer satisfaction, and help your company gain national recognition as industry and environmental leaders.

Learn how ENERGY STAR and its partners – builders, Home Energy Raters, utilities, state and regional sponsors – work together to promote the benefits and increase sales of energy-efficient homes.

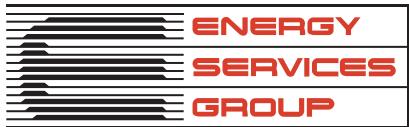

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

Builders, remodelers, contractors, designers, engineers, architects, suppliers, government officials anyone committed to improving energy efficiency, design, sustainability and helping protect the environment.
